

SATURDAY SIFTINGS.

E. H. Tracy returned last night from a business trip to Knox county.

Mrs. Geo. Henks of Missouri Valley, Iowa, is visiting with Mrs. Hahn.

R. A. Stewart is in the city from Omaha renewing old acquaintances.

Mrs. M. E. Lobnow is in the city from Omaha visiting relatives and friends.

G. A. Luikart, president of the Citizens National bank, has returned from a trip west.

Mrs. Mathewson entertained a small party of friends last evening in honor of her guest, Mrs. Darus Mathewson.

Dr. P. H. Salter made a 45-mile drive yesterday, in Pierce county, on a professional visit to a patient beyond Plainview.

The 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart who has been very sick with pneumonia, is now very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol. G. Mayer entertained a few friends at a 6 o'clock dinner last evening at their home on South Tenth street.

Mrs. Christian, mother of Mrs. R. J. Mohle, has been called to Plainview by a message announcing the serious illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Brooks of Bazile Mills were here over night and attended the social session of the Elks. They are enroute home from a trip to Omaha.

The 5-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Mohle, died last night at their home over the Misses Durland's millinery store and will be buried tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hayes went to Lincoln today to visit their son, Clyde, and will attend the dedicatory services of the magnificent new M. E. church in that city tomorrow.

The young friends of Miss Lulu Taylor gave her a surprise party last night at her home on Norfolk avenue, west of the tracks. An enjoyable evening was spent at games and choice refreshments were served.

The Randolph foot ball team arrived in the city this morning and this afternoon is engaged in a game of foot ball with the boys of the Norfolk High school, an interested crowd of spectators being in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Butterfield have left on a trip to Seattle, Wash., called there by a message announcing the very serious illness of Mrs. Butterfield's brother. It is feared that he will not survive until they reach their destination.

H. E. Owen has returned from a trip to Encampment, in southern Wyoming. He is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the place, which is enjoying a great boom, and expresses the opinion that it will become a second Cripple Creek. Mr. Owen left today for Omaha.

Pierce Leader: It is learned that Chris Duerr, the man who shot and killed George Fetterly last week, has moved away from the farm where the tragedy occurred. He desired to get away from the place which was surrounded with such unpleasant and horrible memories.

A biscuit baking contest was held in York last Saturday which was participated in by 25 girls under 14 years of age, the prize for the best batch of biscuits being a handsome range. A little girl 9 years old was awarded the prize but all showed themselves adept at making and baking biscuits. It was a contest with many good features and the firm responsible for it is entitled to a great deal of credit.

The telegraph of the 14th gives the following account of a peculiar accident that happened to a Menominee, Mich., hunter: George Richardson yesterday shot a deer. The bullet passed through its body, hit a tree, glanced off and struck William Everhardt. It went through his wrist, then hit his gun stock, glanced up and entered his mouth through his cheek, finally lodging in his neck. The wound is serious.

Mrs. D. E. Budenz of Martinsville, Indiana, who has been the guest of Norfolk friends for ten days, expected to leave for her home today, but was delayed by a telegram from her brother, J. W. Rose, stating that he and Mrs. Rose would arrive in Omaha on Sunday to remain a few days, during which time Mr. Rose will transact business with the Omaha office of the American Beet Sugar company, of which he is traveling auditor.

The social session of the Elks, given last night in the club rooms of that order in the Marquardt block, was largely attended and most heartily enjoyed. The evening was largely spent in dancing, but other entertainment was provided for those who did not wish to participate in that amusement. An appreciable feature of the entertainment was the serving of delicious refreshments and each lady in attendance was presented with a carnation. The committee responsible for the pleasures of the evening was composed of Messrs. Otto Tappert, A. J. Durland, Clarence Salter and Ralph Braasch.

A story of exposure and suffering comes down from Alliance. Some time ago Ed. Loomis and Mr. Blair, two young men from the east, arrived there in search of employment. The former got a job on the Spade ranch and the latter was employed about 30 miles north, on the Niobrara river. While riding the range last Friday Mr. Loomis was thrown and kicked by his horse, both bones of his right leg being broken below the knee and was left on the prairie helpless. He lay out all of Friday night, all day Saturday and Saturday night, having drawn himself fully four miles backward on his hands. Sunday morning his friend, 70 miles away, felt that he was in trouble and resolved to start out and find him. He had a choice of four long valleys in riding to the Spade ranch and was fortunate in choosing the one in which his friend lay disabled. He found him with just enough strength to attract his attention by waving his hat. The injured man was taken to a hospital at Alliance and it is now doing as well as could be expected. He suffered frightfully from cold, hunger and pain.

Career and Character of Abraham Lincoln.

An address by Joseph Choate, Ambassador to Great Britain, on the career and character of Abraham Lincoln—his early life—his early struggles with the world—his character as developed in the later years of his life and his administration, which placed his name so high on the world's roll of honor and fame, has been published by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and may be had by sending six (6) cents in postage to F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

The only direct route between California and the east is the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route." This was the first road to span the continent with bands of steel. It made friends in those early days—it is making them now, on account of its superior service and superb equipment and quick trains.

For full information call on or address J. B. Elseffer, agent.

Wonderful West.

Towards which the eyes of the west are turned; where great opportunities are open to everyone, is best and quickest reached by the Union Pacific. No better trains in the world than those run via this line.

A Cut in the Rates to Buffalo via the Illinois Central.

As the closing day (October 31) of the wonderful Pan-American exposition draws near, the railroad rates have been reduced so much that the Illinois Central is enabled to offer excursion tickets to Buffalo at rates considerably less than half fare.

Tickets will be on sale during the remainder of October, and will be limited to leave Buffalo returning, for such trains as reach Chicago on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, not later than midnight of the sixth day, including date of sale. These six-day tickets will not be accepted in sleeping cars.

Tickets bearing limits of fifteen and twenty days will be on sale every day until October 31 at corresponding rates.

For a circular giving rates to Buffalo from principal Illinois Central stations, and a beautifully illustrated booklet descriptive of the "Rainbow City," address if the tormenting cold that made last winter one long misery will be as bad this year. Certainly not, if you take Allen's Lung Balm when tickling and rawness in the throat announce the presence of the old enemy. Do not expect the cold to wear itself out. Take the right remedy in time. Allen's Lung Balm is free from opium.

Perhaps You Wonder

Women and Jewels.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Asa K. Leonard's.

Get Green's special almanac.

Welcome as Sunshine

after a long storm is a feeling of relief when an obstinate, pitiless cold has been driven away by Allen's Lung Balm. Only people who have been cured of throat-ache and sore lungs by this remedy can quite realize what the feeling is. There is no opium in the balm; its good effect is radical and lasting. Take a bottle home today.

MONDAY MENTION.

W. G. Baker returned today from a trip to the west.

J. B. Lucas is a city visitor today from Creighton.

Miss Maud Underberg visited in Stanton over Sunday.

Fred French of Wayne spent Sunday with Norfolk friends.

A. W. Wanner spent Sunday with Stanton relatives and friends.

Mrs. S. N. Cate and daughter of Pierce were city visitors Saturday.

Fred and Frank Gabelman of Madison visited over Sunday with their brother, Charles.

Mrs. Mike Stafford and daughter, Edna, made the round trip to and from Omaha Saturday.

Miss Broch of Columbus is the guest of Miss Schmoeck, clerk in the Western Union office.

Mrs. Robert Craft came up from Missouri Valley Saturday for a short visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McNeill arrived from St. Paul, Minn., at noon to visit at the home of Dennis McNeill.

Rev. W. R. McKim has accepted a call to the Episcopal church at Salina, Kansas, from Tecumseh and will take charge about the first of December.

Darius Mathewson was here from Wakefield over Sunday and returned home today, accompanied by Mrs. Mathewson, who has been visiting here several days.

Prof. H. Nimmer of Stanton has arrived in Norfolk and accepted the position as teacher in St. Paul parochial school and will assume his duties next Wednesday.

Rev. C. W. Brinstead, state secretary of the association of Baptist churches, is in the city today on business connected with the printing of the proceedings of the late association meeting at Blair. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Adams during his stay in Norfolk.

The Lincoln game warden seized an innocent looking case of eggs and a barrel of poultry at that city Saturday. Under a layer of eggs in the case and four turkeys in the barrel they found 93 prairie chickens and quails. The packages were in charge of the Adams Express company. The name of the shipper has not been disclosed.

Mrs. L. Hart has resigned her position as manager of the Western Union Telegraph office here and will leave Thursday for Fremont where she will join her husband and go to housekeeping. It has not been announced who will take her position here. Mrs. Hart has won many friends in Norfolk who will be sorry that she is to leave the city.

Mrs. Frank Salter and Mrs. A. N. Gerecke entertained about sixty lady friends Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Salter. A novel voting contest furnished considerable amusement, the successful candidates being awarded appropriate prizes. During the evening dainty refreshments were served and the afternoon was heartily enjoyed by the guests in attendance.

The smallpox scare on the Winnebago reservation was brought to the attention of the authorities at Washington and an investigation showed that there was more of a scare than the facts warranted. It appears that there are but few cases on the reservation and a Homer merchant makes the assertion that the traders and merchants in the northern part of the reservation resorted to a trick to prevent the Indians, among whom the government had just distributed $15,000, from spending their money among the merchants of Homer.

One of the important cases brought before the district court of Madison county at this term is a suit for damages wherein Mrs. Nora B. Lewis is plaintiff and Fred H. Horst, a saloon keeper, and others are defendants. The suit was for $10,000 damages for the death of Mr. Lewis who fell from his wagon in August, 1900, while drunk and was killed. Mrs. Lewis received a judgement for $2,250 Saturday. Ex-Senator W. V. Allen and W. E. Reed were attorneys for the defense and Congressman John S. Robinson and S. O. Campbell appeared for the plaintiff.

Lincoln people are soon to receive their heat from a central plant the same as they do their water, gas and other comforts and necessities now. The Lincoln Traction company has asked for a franchise to use the streets and alleys of the city for laying steam pipes. The traction company uses a large amount of steam and it is figured that if they can save the steam wasted from the exhaust and reinforce it with other steam for heating purposes it will add considerable to their income. The next scheme will probably be to distribute hot air for cooling purposes and the modern house or business place will become a place of comfort, summer and winter, for a cash consideration.

A horse, attached to a buggy and being driven by the son of S. G. Satterlee of South Norfolk, ran away Saturday afternoon and created considerable havoc on Main street. In crossing the bump left over the ditch in front of E. J. Schorregge's place of business the shafts of the vehicle got on top of the horse's back the belly-band being unfastened. The horse from there made a lively dash to Braasch & Zuelow's store on the corner and broke loose from the buggy a few feet east. The momentum acquired sent the buggy crashing into the delivery team of Braasch & Zuelow, breaking the leg of one of the horses which belonged to Mr. Braasch, and the boy was thrown out, striking the wheel on his head and shoulder and receiving a bad cut and some severe bruises. Mr. Braasch found it necessary to shoot his horse and there was mourning in his family that evening as the animal was a great pet. The actual value of the animal was probably not more than $35 or $40, but Mr. Braasch states that he would sooner have lost $100 than had the accident happen. After breaking loose from the buggy the Satterlee horse made a dash across the brick pavement in front of the store and landed between a team hitched west of the store, breaking the wagon tongue. It was captured before it got untangled from its predicament. There were a number of women in front of the store before and after the accident and if the runaway had occurred earlier or later than it did someone would have been killed or badly hurt. Mr. Satterlee offered to make good Mr. Braasch's loss.

WHEN GARFIELD LAY DYING

A Pathetic Incident of His Removal to Long Branch.

A pathetic incident is related apropos of the day of fasting and prayer which was appointed by all the governors of the United States at the time President Garfield was removed from Washington to Long Branch in the hope that the change might help him to recover from the bullet wounds inflicted by Guiteau.

"Crete," said the president to his brave little wife about 11 on that Thursday morning as the ringing strokes from the belfry of the Episcopal church almost across from the cottage reached his ears, "what are they ringing that bell for?"

"That?" said Mrs. Garfield, who had been waiting for the surprise. "That's the church where we were when you first came down. They're all going to pray for you to get well," and, falling on her knees, she said, "And I'm going to pray, too, James, that it may be soon, for I know already that the other prayer has been heard."

From where he lay Garfield could see the carriages draw up and group after group go in. He could even hear the subdued refrain of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," as it was borne by its heavenly wayward way. Thrilled with emotion, a tear trickled down the president's face. Then he closed his eyes and turned his face as a sweet woman's voice arose singing from one of Sir Michael Costa's oratorios. "Turn thou unto me and have mercy upon me," sang the voice. "For I am desolate—I am desolate and afflicted; the troubles of my heart are enlarged. Oh, bring thou me out of my distresses—out of my distresses—my God."

To Dwarf Trees.

To dwarf trees as the Chinese do you must follow their methods. They take a young plant, say a seedling or a cutting of cedar when two or three inches high, cut off its taproot so soon as it has enough other rootlets to live upon and replant it in a shallow pot or pan, allowing the end of the taproot to rest upon the bottom of the pan. Alluvial clay molded to the size of beans and just sufficient in quantity to furnish a scanty nourishment is then put into the pot. Water, heat and light are permitted on the same basis.

The Chinese also use various mechanical contrivances to promote symmetry of growth. As, owing to the shallow pots, both top and roots are easily accessible, the gardener uses the pruning knife and the scaring iron freely, so that the little tree, hemmed on every side, eventually gives up the unequal struggle and, contenting itself with the little life left, grows just enough to live and look well.

Great Memories.

Otto Schultze, a stenographer, wrote in the Brandenburg Schullblatt that Bismarck had a wonderful memory. "When he had delivered a two hours' speech and looked over our shorthand reports the next day, he remembered every expression he had used exactly and did not forget them for years."

The novelist Spielhagen once told Schultze that he could recall vividly every one of the thousands of persons he had met in his life and every word spoken by casual acquaintances, together with their gestures and the cut of their hair and clothes.

A Hunting Story.

Once Rogers was shooting where his host happened to have killed a boy and a keeper in the same season, and he asked a beater whether his master felt the matter very much. The answer was: "Well, sir, he didn't care much about the boy. He gile his mother five pounds. But he were very vexed about the man. He didn't go out shootin' for a whole week." This in Norfolk was considered an evidence of the climax of human emotion.—George Archdale in Temple Bar.

At the Examination.

Teacher (to little Isidor, who is very poor at fractions)—If I need 3½ yards of cloth for a suit and the cloth costs 2½ gulden a yard, what will the suit cost? Isidor—To begin with, teacher, 3 yards would be enough for a suit, and you could get it at our store for 2 gulden. The suit would cost you 6 gulden.—Fliegende Blätter.

The desert of Sahara is no little spot. It covers 2,500,000 square miles between the Atlantic ocean and the Nile valley.

TUESDAY TOPICS.

W. M. Stork of Madison is in the city today on business.

Adolph Larson is a Norfolk visitor today on business.

S. R. Carney left yesterday on a business trip to eastern Iowa.

Mayor D. J. Koenigstein went to Lincoln today on business.

Ernest Fenske of Hoskins was in the city yesterday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Durland returned last night from a week's visit at Plainview.

Editor W. E. Powers of the Pierce Leader was in the city today greeting his Norfolk friends.

Stanton people are to enjoy the comforts of electric lights hereafter, a company having been organized with F. A. Raabe as president. Contracts for placing the poles and wiring will be awarded immediately.

J. H. Bigelow of Sioux City has opened a shooting gallery in the store room lately vacated by Seader & Daniel's bowling alley. The targets are mechanical and are moved with a small gasoline engine.

M. D. Tyler this afternoon received a telegram from his law partner, Judge J. B. Barnes, who is in Lincoln, stating that Auditor Weston has refused to accept for registration the bonds of this city voted for the purpose of establishing a municipal electric lighting plant.

The impression seems to have been received by some from yesterday's account of Saturday's runaway that it started from the sewer ditch in front of E. J. Schorregge's. Such is not the case. The horse started to run on Second street, where a bolt dropped from one side of the shaft.

The Congregationalists of Pierce dedicated a handsome new building last Sunday, Rev. C. D. Gearhart of Newman Grove preaching the dedicatory sermon in the morning. Rev. F. V. Moslander of Neligh preached in the evening. The church building complete cost $5,000 and will be lighted with acetylene gas.

Stanton Picket: Senator Young is still confined to his bed from the injury sustained to his knee eight days ago, and still suffers a good deal of pain. It is not probable that he will be about again for several days yet, and even then it must be by the aid of crutches. The accident happened on Mr. Young's 42nd birthday and is a present he does not care to have duplicated.

Game Warden Simpkins has made another capture at Lincoln. This time he found a consignment of 22 prairie chickens in a tub of butter. They were billed from Theford to St. Louis. He expects to prosecute both the shipper and the express company. Those who desire to run the risk of prosecution under the game law are finding that it requires some pretty smooth smuggling, and then the offender may be caught.

Justice of the Peace Hayes has it figured out that his is one of the positions not benefited by prosperity. Debtors have money and find it unnecessary to crowd their creditors and if they ask the money the creditor is always able to make some kind of payment or satisfactory promise. Then again people are paying cash to a considerable extent. As a consequence suits for the collection of debts are few and far between.

J. H. Drinnin of Columbus was in the city this afternoon on his way home from O'Neill where he attended a sale of school land conducted by H. M. Eaton, deputy commissioner of public lands and buildings. All the school land in Holt county was sold or redeemed yesterday between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock. Mr. Drinnin secured a piece of university land and purchased an other 160 acres near Atkinson this morning, closing the deal about sunrise.

The fire department responded to an alarm this morning about 10:30 but their services were not required. The fire was in a heap of rubbish in the rear of the Marquardt block and is supposed to have been started by a cigarette stub. Harry Lodor of the Trocadero and his help got quick action on the blaze with a small hose and it had no opportunity of making a good start. Its proximity to the old frame building in the rear of the block was the only occasion for alarm.

Last night a party of ladies assembled at Mrs. O. L. Hyde's home on South Ninth street, the occasion being a birthday surprise. The evening was spent in games and other amusements, after which dainty and delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Hyde was presented with a beautiful piece of china by the guests in remembrance of the occasion. The evening was one long to be remembered by both hostess and guests. Those present were: Mesdames Blakeman, Cummings, Estabrook, H. H. Patterson, Lager, Hall, Jones, Paterson, Whitmer, Caulfield and Alexander.

Commissioner H. W. Winter, ascertaining that a woman who has been staying in Norfolk, but whose home is in Bloomfield, was likely to become a county charge, ordered her to return to Bloomfield yesterday morning. Instead of complying, however, she sought to evade the commissioner's demand by driving into the country with two companions. Mr. Winter detected them in their effort and stopped them at the bridge on Main street, ordering the woman out. He provided her with accommodations for the night and this morning put her on the train and started her back to Bloomfield.

Oakdale Sentinel: Joe Cosgrove had the misfortune to shoot himself Wednesday morning while in Mr. Nies's timber and riding on a load of wood with E. C. Morgan. He was holding his gun, a 22 caliber rifle, by the muzzle when the hammer caught on some brush and the gun was discharged, the bullet striking him in the left side and coming nearly to the surface on the abdomen. He was taken to Dr. Minton's office where Drs. Minton and Lee placed him under an anesthetic and removed the ball and dressed the wound. He is not thought at this writing to be in a serious condition except the usual danger of septicemia from such bullet wounds.

A recent decision of the supreme court affirms the decision of the Knox county district court in its refusal to grant a permanent injunction to restrain the moving of the Knox county seat from Niobrara to Center and the officials must move their offices and effects or go to jail. The new county seat is 12 miles from any town and the officials will be compelled to move in a few weeks. A temporary court house will probably be built and the town will grow up around it. The new county seat will be in the exact geographical center of the county. The citizens of Verdigris propose to have the seat within eight miles of their town, due east, by opening and grading a new road, putting in bridges, etc.

West Point Democrat: Joe Drahas, our genial harness maker, in his love for curious and strange pets, had quite a thrilling experience this week. Albert Wobig caught an animal in one of those large wire rat traps and knowing Joe to be versed in animal lore took it to him to find out what it was. Joe, thinking he knew a prize when he saw it, begged Mr. Wobig to let him have it to place in his show window. And now he is sorry that he spoke. After placing the animal in the window some of the boys got to teasing it, which caused it to make known to what family of the animal kingdom it belonged. Joe is now busy fumigating his place of business and can now tell a skunk a mile off. Experience is a very good teacher but sometimes very unpleasant.

Getting Thin

Is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE Chemists, 409 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.
